The SRI International story

THE CHALLENGE

SRI International needed military compliance for deliveries in the United States and abroad.

THE SOLUTION

SEKO manages all truckload shipments for SRI International to hundreds of military installations within the United States, with fully compliant time commitments and vendor certifications. The service has now been expanded to include export compliance and foreign military base deliveries in Germany and other countries.

THE RESULT

SRI International has seen dramatic improvement in on-time deliveries to military installations around the world. With SEKO's government expertise, SRI is now also able to improve the timely and fully compliant delivery of high volumes of military products to military bases in the United States. As a result of the successful implementation of a Military Base Distribution Program in the US, SRI International has chosen SEKO to manage new projects for military bases in other countries such as Germany.
